

THE NELLA FOLLA STORY

Nella Folla is the passion project of creative couple Darren Wilkie and Chiara Celini. This Illustrator/drum guy duo met in early 2023 on the "None of yer Business" podcast, hosted by Darren (Darren insists this was a legit podcast and not an elaborate plan to meet Chiara... Chiara is skeptical...)

The show was designed to champion artists, makers and small businesses while shedding light on the unseen challenges and successes that occur behind the scenes. Since their meeting, the pair continue to discuss such topics on a daily basis and strive to celebrate not only each other's creative work, but that of all those they love and respect within their wonderful creative community.

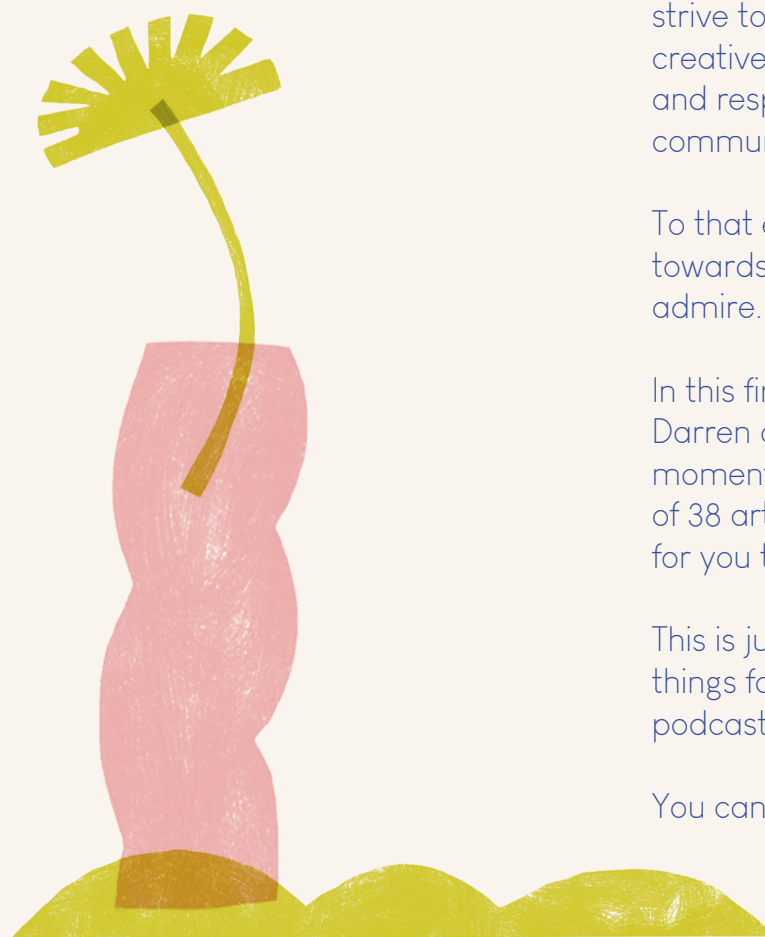

To that end, they have been steadily working towards a project to champion those they admire. That project is Nella Folla.

In this first issue of the Nella Folla Catalogue, Darren and Chiara present to you, curated moments in a crowded market – A collection of 38 artists, makers and small businesses for you to discover!

This is just the beginning of many exciting things for Nella Folla (watch this space for podcasts, markets, catalogues and more!)

You can join our community...

FLAM HOMEWARES

Flam create unique homewares from old unwanted drum kits, offering a diverse range of products including planters, tables, pet beds, lamps, clocks, key holders, lightboxes, trays, door stops and more!

Flam also offer a completely unique gifting experience for you to wow your loved ones. Here, you can customise the design to match their personal taste, they'll receive a personalised 'making of' video detailing the process from start to end as Darren makes the item specifically for them, AND their box will come with a special code, which, when scanned will take them to a series of professionally curated unboxing playlists to set the vibe as they open their gift. Each playlist was created by a local artist or DJ and forms their interpretation of the Flam unboxing experience.

Darren's work has featured in Uniqlo, Lifewear Magazine and GNI Magazine. He is the founder of Edinburgh's Nook & Cranny Studios, providing affordable studio space to fourteen emerging artists, makers and small businesses in the city, and he was a finalist for the Creative Edinburgh Development Award 2024.

CHIARA CELINI

Chiara Celini is a freelance illustrator and artist capturing the people, places and stories of our planet. She specialises in creating uplifting visuals through inclusive character designs and unique illustrations.

Chiara encapsulates this through painting/ mix media as well as digital. She aims to build something that offers authenticity in an increasingly opaque time, that avoids trends and instead, champions representation through dynamic, refined and timeless visuals.

Chiara's work extends from client based projects to colourful, customer friendly products, all created with one purpose in mind – to make people smile.

MARTHA DUNCAN

Self proclaimed 'maker of things', Martha Duncan is an architecture graduate gone rogue. Harnessed with a postgraduate degree in Architecture from the Glasgow School of Art, she has now taken her design skills in a different direction and is a self taught printmaker, illustrator and ceramicist.

Some may say she has wasted 6 years of her life and a lot of money on a very serious and stressful degree, and she would agree.

Every piece of Martha's work is handmade using bright and bold patterns and mark making. Often inspired by pop culture and post modern design, her work is fun and sometimes a bit cheeky.

She strives to simply give people a laugh with her work or add a bit of colour into their lives. There is absolutely nothing serious about what she makes.

NO COMPLY

No Comply is a celebration of skateboarding and its unique community. Cat & Andy craft from their workshop based in Dundee, turning broken skateboards and locally sourced reclaimed hardwood into unique, hand-crafted pieces.

Each piece carries its own story, inspired by skateboarding culture and a commitment to sustainable design.

They produce small batches of homeware and jewellery products – each with their own unique colourways – and take on commissions of all shapes and sizes. By the time No Comply get their hands on the skateboards, they have already endured a life on the street or in the park. The aim is to ensure the boards generate more memories and enjoyment in a whole new form.

ORLA STEVENS

Orla Stevens is an artist and illustrator, exploring nature, landscape, and how connections with the natural world make us feel.

Rooted in painting, Orla loves creating all sorts of things that help us connect to nature; from paintings, to illustrated activity books, murals, videos on YouTube and through her teaching.

As well as creating things, Orla is passionate about getting others creating and making space for play.

Orla runs a global online learning community called 'The Outdoor Sketchbook Collective', which uses and teaches art as a tool to connect with nature, ourselves – as a space for self expression – and with other artists around the world.

SOPHIE HUSTWICK

Sophie Hustwick, is a British photographer currently based in York, but more often found gallivanting the world to capture the worlds beauty in its simplicity.

Sophie's collective body of work is not only distinguished by a recording of everyday surroundings, but also an investigation into the interplay of colour, composition and content. She is drawn to pops of colour, the subtle shifts in light and the textures that shadows create.

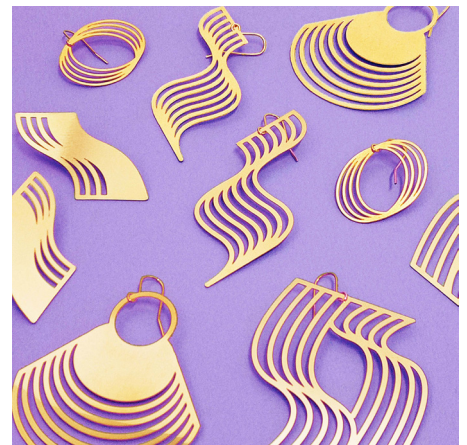

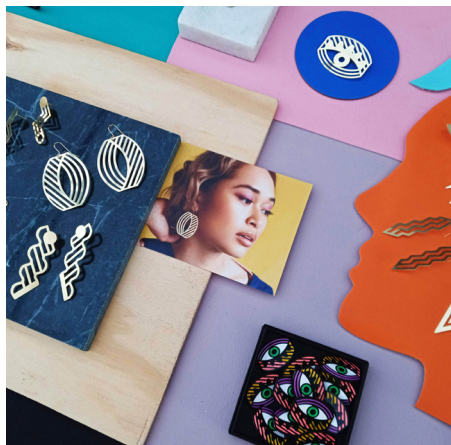

Sophie often waits for that magical moment when everything bathes in a warm, consuming glow. When colours become richer, shadows become deeper and everything drips in gold. Just like honey.

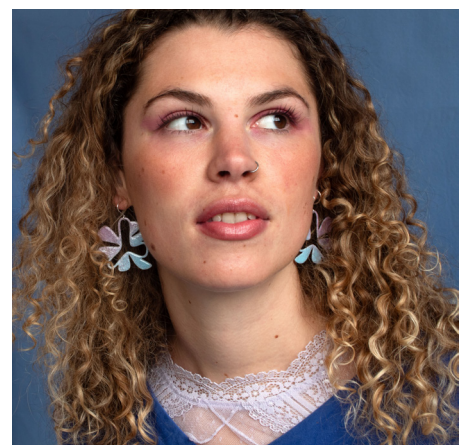

NMARRA DESIGN

Nmarra Design specialises in bold graphically-led jewellery pieces and lifestyle accessories, all proudly made in Scotland. Statement earrings, necklaces, brooches and hair pins are designed with compositions to frame the face in warm metallic brass. New ranges include colourful enamel gradient designs to add a pop of colour to your look. Other great gift ideas include brass tenement door numbers and bookmarks.

Through Nmarra Design, fashion forward pieces are developed to reflect a strong design aesthetic and create rhythm, structure and visual balance that resonate meaningfully with the viewer.

MY MOKA HOME

My Moka Home was established in 2018 as the only UK shop dedicated to vintage, unique and collectable moka pots. Each item is sourced in Italy, specifically Turin, where the founder's family still resides. The moka pots symbolise not only part of Italian culture but also Italian design from the 1950s to 2000s.

My Moka Home strives to bring back the traditional Italian way of making coffee into everyday homes and the array of moka pots on offer appeal to both coffee aficionados and those new to the ritual.

ODE TO THE SEASONS

Originally from Canada, Jamee now lives in Edinburgh creating dried and pressed flower decor. The benefit of using dried flowers is that with proper care they can last indefinitely, making them an everlasting item.

Where possible, any dried or pressed flower used is responsibly foraged or sourced from local florists and UK wholesalers.

Since no two flowers are the same, each creation is truly unique. From framed pieces to baubles, every item is timeless and one of a kind.

MUKA STUDIO

MUKA studio is an independent jewellery brand based in Glasgow. The brand was created in 2015 by Claire Maleham who designs and creates each piece by hand using recycled silver and gold.

The collection is perfect for minimalists, combining simple clean lines with eye catching textures to create truly timeless jewellery that can be worn by all ages. With a delicate feminine feel, each design is created with simple beauty in mind using graceful shapes that complement the body.

CHARITY SPOTLIGHT

A food bank is one of the last places anyone imagines they'll be. Especially at Christmas.

Winter is often the busiest time for food banks in the Trussell community. Last winter, 600,000 food parcels were distributed to people facing hunger and poverty.

Trussell are an anti-poverty charity and community of food banks. They work together to ensure no one in the UK needs a food bank to survive, while providing food and practical support to people left without enough money to live on.

ABBIE LOIS

Abbie Lois is a printmaker and illustrator whose work focuses on folklore and the landscape which shapes these stories. She resurfaces these stories within her work, calling attention to the inherent links between our land and its inhabitants to mythology and folklore, and the lessons that can be learnt from these often ancient stories.

Her work usually features interesting figures or animals, with intricate details throughout. Storytelling is a large part of her practice and she loves to tell these stories behind her work in person to customers. She sells original screen prints, digitally printed versions of these and digitally printed greeting cards.

SON OF PEAR

Son of Pear is a design led brand all created by the hands of Holly Thomas at the comfort of her kitchen table in Edinburgh.

Holly's work displays strong influences of her home town in Orkney through colour, pattern and form, evoking the expansive skies, rippling waves and vibrant colours of life by the harbour.

Whether functional or purely decorative, each piece is drawn, glazed and made by hand, forming connection between maker and material.

FREYA MABEL MAKES

Freya Mabel Makes creates modern day Scottish landscape tapestries for those who want to celebrate their favourite places with a tangible piece of art in their home.

Everything is made in her studio in highland Perthshire, using natural canvas with appliquéd felt in a minimalistic style. Through detailed stitching and a refined colour palette these tapestries work both individually and as mini collections.

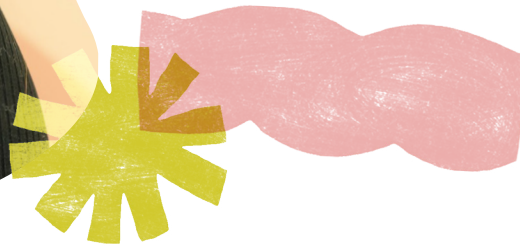

ALISTON DESIGNS

Amy Liston, the artist and owner behind alistondesigns, aims to make original art as accessible as possible.

She does this by painting her seascape scenes onto functional everyday items such as jewellery, bookmarks, bags and decorations, allowing customers to own original paintings that can be part of their everyday life.

BoxLove, launched in 2020, enables people to send a thoughtful "hug in the post" whilst also supporting other local businesses.

Growing up, Jessica's mum ran a small gift shop and Post Office where she would spend her Saturdays helping (whilst enjoying 10p Freddos). She loved picking out small gifts to send to friends, always including a thoughtful note to make them smile. Jessica believes this is where the essence of BoxLove originated - being immersed in gifts, the joy of sending, and creating community connections.

KILO PAPA

Kilo Papa Studio is run by Kym Parker, a Glasgow-based artist and designer from the East Coast of Scotland. She is hugely inspired by organic patterns in nature and by nurturing connections between people and place.

The combination of these inspirations has led to a body of work that takes topographical maps and merges them with colour to create abstract art pieces of Scotland's beautiful mountains and hilly places!

Each map is drawn by hand which keeps Kym's process as analogue as possible. They are then printed onto beautiful heavyweight recycled paper made from 100% post consumer waste.

JATRA NATURALS

Sadiah is the founder of Jatra Naturals, a skincare brand born out of a desire to find natural alternatives for healing acne, avoiding harsh medications like roaccutane.

Inspired by the meaning of "Jatra" which is "the journey" in Bengali, the brand focuses on promoting wellbeing and helping people to discover their own journey in skincare, connecting with natural ingredients that work best for them.

GRACE COOPER

Grace Cooper Creative, based in the heart of Edinburgh, is a celebration of nature and architecture, transformed into beautiful gifts and homeware. Each piece, especially our unique hand-painted plant pots, reflects a harmonious blend of artistic inspiration and earthy elegance.

Our creations breathe life into any space, making them perfect for adding a personal touch to your home or gifting to a loved one. Embrace the charm of the natural world and the beauty of design with Grace Cooper Creative, where every item tells a story.

KELDA YOUNG

Kelda Young is a designer and maker from the Scottish Highlands and is currently based in Wasps Studios, Glasgow. She creates sustainably conscious contemporary jewellery using recycled precious metals, each piece is unique due to the nature of the handcrafted process.

Kelda's work is centred around material connection, and the physical act of making. Using hollow forming techniques in conjunction with high pressure embossing to create tactile, enticing pieces – highlighting textures and details.

The softness of the pushed metal and the misleading perception of weight heightens curiosity and longs to be picked up.

PARTRIDGE&PARTRIDGE

Partridge&Partridge started in January 2021 as a creative outlet, a means of getting out in the fresh air, away from screens, with the vision to make beautiful, colourful and most importantly, sustainable, homeware products.

This family run business, made up of Gary, Sally and James, simply aim to brighten their customers homes with unique and timeless items. They take pride in small batch production and champion their business values – zero waste and 100% recycled or recyclable packaging to minimise our carbon footprint.
